Encouraging the youth of India to achieve their goals

Youth skills trainer and motivational speaker, Abhimanyu Datta shares his views and experiences gathered while working with young students across India.

What makes you think that dreams can do what goals can't?
Having a big dream sometimes can lead you out of your obstacles. Look at the recent success stories of young sportspersons, aren't many of them from small towns or villages? Often, we are stuck with short-term goals. Ideas, notions and opinions around us and create imaginary blockages for progress. A dream has an amazing power to cut through the clutter in mind.

Why do some youngsters perform better?
I find a lot of them have a clear sense of what they are and what they are pursuing. So, obviously, they score better than others who are still in the figuring out stage.

How does a youngster get clarity?
It is the responsibility of the entire ecosystem — parents, schools, colleges — everyone is a key stakeholder and needs to take appropriate steps at the right time. For example, psychometric assessments, skill-gap analysis, soft skills and behavioral skills trainings can have a lasting positive impact on a child.

Is it difficult catching up with young minds?
I discovered many practical insights while working with youngsters. My work involves travelling across the country, conducting training programs for youth preparing for the next realm of life — higher studies, corporate, entrepreneurship, creative pursuits etc.

HAVING A BIG DREAM SOMETIMES CAN LEAD YOU OUT OF YOUR OBSTACLES. OFTEN, WE ARE STUCK WITH SHORT-TERM GOALS, IDEAS, NOTIONS AND OPINIONS AROUND US AND CREATE IMAGINARY BLOCKAGES FOR PROGRESS. A DREAM HAS AN AMAZING POWER TO CUT THROUGH THE CLUTTER IN MIND
